RELEVANT WORK EXPERIENCE

Full Stack Engineer – Gunbuyer.com

July 2020 - Present

- At Gunbuyer I am a full-stack developer working on both the front end and back end. For the front end I am using JavaScript, phtml, xml/json, less, and other technologies. The backend is mainly php interacting with our newly created SQL database. At Gunbuyer I work on a small team with one other dev and a project manager. We completely created a new site from scratch, imported over 140,000 unique products via setting up new data feed logic, created a new custom back end, and added new extensions/created custom extensions on a project that the previous team had corporate level resources and a team of over 10.
